Lane is bored with his life. It's a good life, and comfortable, but he misses the excitement and spice of his first song royalties check and the thrill of opening his rental business. He wants to do something spectacular, something to change up the same old routine - and if he's honest, he wants someone to do it with.

Roman is a rolling stone. Since he left home at eighteen he's been on the move with the SEALs, and since he's left the service, he's been across the country, bunking with friends and trying to figure out what the heck he wants out of life. He could go back home... but he's never quite fit in amongst his high rolling family's glitz and glam. He wants something else – something more real.

When Roman rolls into town to visit his friend Brad, he doesn't expect to stay for more than a few weeks. But the guy next door is cute – even if Roman has never properly dated a man before. He's just contemplating asking Lane out when he receives word that his grandfather has passed – leaving behind a tidy fortune and the stipulation that Roman must be married before receiving any of it.

Lane wants adventure. Roman wants stability. Will a marriage of convenience lead both of them to something even more powerful – love?

Fake Groom is a a steamy, standalone gay romance novel, with a happily ever after ending and no cliffhangers. It is set in the same world as HATE/Love.
